"The Right Guy For Me"

If his voice is a song,
And his walk is a dance,
And if his laugh is warm and free;
If I suddenly seem to be seeing a dream
He's the right guy for me.

If the glow in his eyes,
And the light in his smile
Could charm a bird right off a tree;
I'll be charmed as the bird,
And I'll know in a word
He's the right guy for me.

He'll be the kind who'll make me feel
I need his protection.

If the sight of his face and the touch of his hand.

Can make me happy as can he;
If my heart says "Come in, Darling, where have you been?"

He's the right guy for me.

"I Love you, Dear"

I. "I Love you, dear"
 There ~~is~~ is no phrase so worn and old
 In all the world, nor one so sweet
 To lover's lips or maiden's ear
 As this refrain, "I Love you, dear".

II. "I Love you, dear"

There is no change as time goes on;
 No new words seems to mean so much
 As when they're uttered fondly near,
 In trembling tones, "I Love you dear".

III. "I Love you, dear"

No night so dark, no day so long
 But hope brings comfort to the heart,
 If only "some one" standeth near
 To murmur low, "I Love you, dear".

Oh there's nothing so sweet in life
 As love's young dream.

"I Love Thee"

- I. I Love thee; why, I cannot tell,
A thousand nameless winning ways
Around thee weave their magic spell
And make words poor to speak thy praise.
- II. I Love thee; not because thine eyes
Are matched by heaven's celestial blue,
But in thy trustful look there lies
The unspoken promise to be true.
- III. I love thee for some subtle charm
That seems to draw my heart to thine;
Thy voice and look my fears disarm,
and tell me thou art only mine.
- IV. I love thee; not for wealth or fame —
No worldly wish holds thought of thee;
and since thy heart reveals the same,
How bright with hope our lives may be!

"Since We Parted"

Since we parted yester eve,
I do love thee, love, believe,
Twelve times dearer, twelve hours longer,
one dream deeper, one night stronger,
one sun sarer, — this much more than I loved thee, love, before.

"I Love The Guy"

I love the guy, tha he quenes me,
And he leaves me high and dry.

He breaks dates and I'm left alone,
Then I say that he's on his own,
but when he calls I break my neck to get the phone! Cause I love the guy.

* * *

I love the dope, I adore him,
Although for him, there's no hope.
He's not true, when he's at his best,
Oh! the excapates he's confessed.
But mine's the only name that's tatssed on his chest. Yes I love the guy!

* * *

I love the chap, you can see that he's the tree & I'm the sap.
Other men may have better looks,
make more money & read more books.
But only he can eat the things this girl cooks. Yes! I love the guy!

* * *

I love the boy, when he kisses
then this missis fills with joy.
Famous men may admire me,
Millionaires may desire me. But I belong to him
& he belongs to me. For I love the guy.

"It isn't fair"

It isn't fair for you to taunt me,
How can you make me care this way?
It isn't fair for you to want me,
If it's just for a day.
It isn't fair for you to thrill me
Why do you do the things you do?
It isn't fair for you to fill me
With these dreams that can't come true.

dear! It you come into my life and why is it you made it complete?
you gave me just a taste of high life,
If this is love, then I repeat,
It isn't fair for you to taunt me,
How can you make me care this way?
It isn't fair for you to want me,
If it's just for today!

"The End of The Romance"

Our love was like most other loves;
A little glow, a little shiver,
A rosebud, and a pair of gloves,
And "Fly not yet" — upon the river;
Some jealousy of some one's heir,
Some talk of dying broken-hearted,
A miniature, a lock of hair,
The usual vows, — and then we parted.

H. We parted; months and years rolled by;
We met again four summers after;
Our parting was all sob and sigh;
Our meeting was all mirth and laughter;
For in my heart's most secret cell
There had been many other lodgers;
And she was not the hallcomer's belle
But only — Mrs. Something Rogers.

"The Welcome"

Come in the evening, or come in the morning,
Come when you're looked for, or come without

Kisses and welcome you'll find here before you,
And the oftener you come here the more I'll adore
you.

"The Enchantment"

I. I did but look and love awhile,
'Twas but for one half-hour;
Then to resist I had no will,
And now I have no power

II. To sigh and wish is all my ease, —
Sighs which do heat impart,
Enough to melt the coldest ice,
Yet cannot warm your heart,

III. I would you pity give my heart
One corner of your breast,
'I would learn of yours the winning art
And quickly steal the rest.

"A Heart For Every one"

Oh, there's a heart for every one,
If every one could find it;
Then up and seek ye youth is gone,
What'er the toil, never mind it;
For if you chance to meet at last
With that one heart intended
To be a blessing unsurpassed,
Till life itself is ended
How would you prize the labor done,
How grieve if you resigned it;
For there is a heart for every one,
If every one could find it!

"The First Kiss"

O happy hush of heart to heart!
O moment molten through with bliss!
O Love, delaying long to part
That first, fast, individual kiss!
Whereon two lives on glowing lips
Kang clasp, each feeling fold in fold,
Like daisies closed with crimson tips,
That sleep about a heart of gold.
★ ★ ★ ★

"An Interlude"

You taught me all that Love could be,
You filled my life with you untold;
Could I give less than all to thee,
Or offer only dross for gold?
I brought my heart and laid it low,
For lifelong service at your feet;
The love of all my days I owe
To one who made my life so sweet.
★
But then there came another day,
The rhythm of the poem broke;
We said good-bye, you went away,
The dream had ended — I awoke.
★
Ah, still within my heart you reign
And there none other shall intrude;
But you are far away — far away,
And I am but — an Interlude.

Cute Remember Always Masterful Me!
I can hide my love for you, back,
I can walk and not look back, voice,
I can speak with a very calm voice,
and work with a steady hand,
I can give a level glance my way,
wherever you look of myself,
for I am master of myself,
except for one little thing,
I wonder if you can ever guess
the pounding of my heart,
the pounding of my heart,
the end

"Think Thee"
I think thee my thoughts are calm and sweet,
without thee they are wild and sad;
think thee my life is all complete,
without thee it is stormy - mad.
Be true my love, my love, be true!
I'm nothing, if I have not you.
II. think thee my heart is at rest,

"If the Heart Be True"
 All things can never go badly wrong,
 If the heart be true and the love be strong,
 For the mist, if it comes, and the weeping rain,
 Will be changed by love into sunshine again.

freshmen

Love's Course
A flight of fancy like a gleam of sunshine over silken hair
A chord of subtle sympathy
That stirs emotions pure as prayer,
An aspiration and a joy
That makes the lowest a king,
A kiss — and all the universe
Encircled by a wedding ring!

"I Love Thee"

I Love thee as the flow'ers fair
Love sunbeams on the sea;
I Love thee as the birds of air
Love dawning spring to see;
I Love thee as the rippling stream
Love winding to the shore;
I Love thee when awake, a dream,
Ah could I love thee more,

The Visitor

Love knocked softly on the door,
calling, "Jackie, are you there?"
Jackie counted up to four.
Then she rose from off her chair
tied a ribbon in her hair pressed a dress on her head put more powder on her nose made a hat upon her put a hat upon her filed her nails and changed her shoes
I couldn't think which pair, and then started to comb her hair again.
Soft the voice of love had been,
"Jackie, Jackie, are you there?"
Jackie went to let him in—
Found the doorstep cold and bare.
Love had gone and what is more,
Left to try the house next door.

Sweetheart, that may be true!

So many are much better? - yes,

But no one else is "you".

"Life without Love"

I. Life without love is like
Day without sunshine,
Roses bereft of
Sweet nature's perfume;
Love is the guide mark
To those who are weary
Of waiting and watching
In darkness and gloom.

II. Love to the heart is like
Dewdrops to violets
Left on the dust-ridden
Roadside sodie;
Love leads the way
To our highest endeavors,
Lightens and lessens
The pain of each sigh.

III. Life without love
Is like spring without flowers,
Brook streams that move not
Or star-bereft sky.
Love creates efforts
Most worthy and noble,
Prompts us to live
And reigns us to die.

MADISONVILLE TORNADOES

The Madisonville Tornadoes had a very successful season. They were undefeated during the entire season. This was the first time this feat had been accomplished in many years at M. H. S.

This success can be accredited to the spirit of the boys and the excellent coaching of Neil McDowell and Jack Armstrong.

During the season the Tornadoes scored 199 points, while only 50 were scored against them. "The outstanding back of the year was H.R. Plemons who scored 104 points." The other points were as follows: Mack Franklin 59, Jack Estes 19, Dick Mason 14, Jerry Stephens 3.

The Madisonville Tornadoes lost many due to graduation this season. They lost two outstanding ends in Jack Estes and Guy Wiggins. Jack was an exceptionally good kicker. Jack was also alternate captain. Guy was a good defensive end that seldom let anyone come around.

We lost two good tackles in Andrew Spurling who was the heaviest man on the team and Frank Worley who never let you down.

We also lost two good backs. They were H.R. Plemons and Mack Franklin who was captain of the team.

Four of the Madisonville boys were placed on the all-county team. They were tackle Frank Worley, end Jack Estes, tailback H.R. Plemons and fullback Mack Franklin.

"Long"

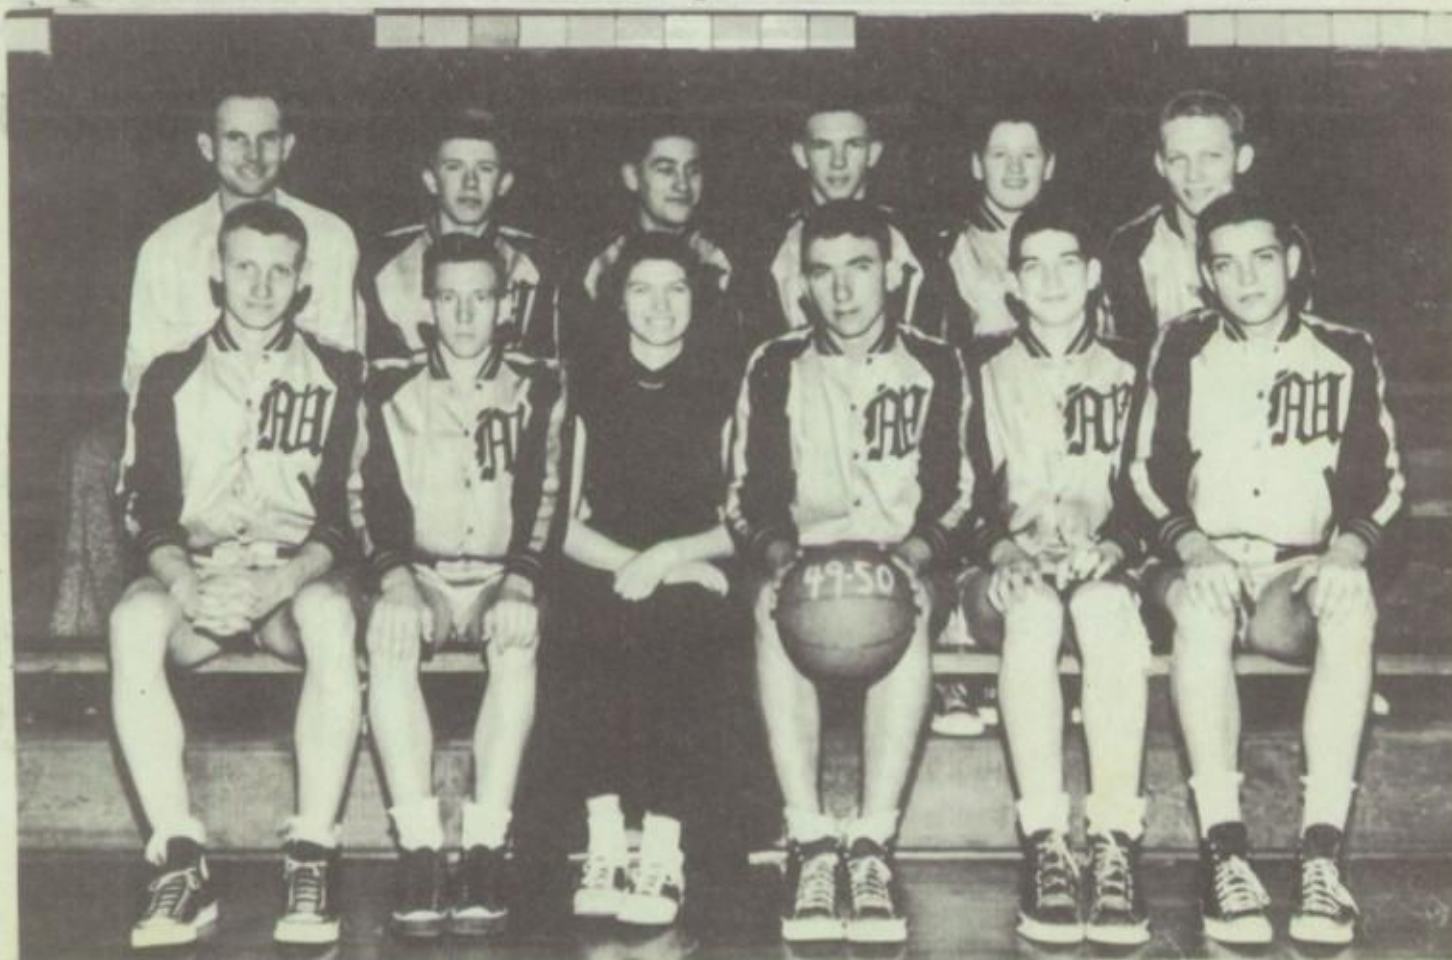

We must love, and unlove, and, it may be,
Live into and out of anon
Sometimes no few in a lifetime,
Ere lifetime and sometime be one.
For to love it is hard, and 'tis harder
Perchance to be loved again.
But if living be not loving
Then living is all in vain.
* * * *

"Forgive Me Now"

- I. Wait not ~~the~~ morrow, but forgive me now;
Who knows what fate to-morrow's dawn may bring?
Let us not part with shadow on thy brow,
With my heart hungering.
* * *
- II. Wait not to-morrow, but entwine thy hand
In mine with sweet forgiveness full and free,
Of all life's joys I only understand
This joy of loving thee.
* * *
- III. Perhaps some day I may redeem the wrong,
Repair the fault — I know not when or how.
O dearest, do not wait — it may be too long —
Only forgive me now.

"My King"

I
You are all I have to live for,
All that I want to love,
All that the whole world holds for me
Of faith in the world above.
You came - and it seemed too mighty
For my human heart to hold,
It ~~seemed~~ in its sacred glow
Like a glimpse thro' the Gates of gold;
Like a life in its primal Eden,
Created and formed anew -
This charm of a perfect manhood
That I realize in you.

II.

God created me a woman
With a nature just and true
As the blue eternal ocean,
As the heavens over you;
And you are mine till your Maker calls you,
Your soul and your body, Sweet!
Your breath and the whole of your being
From your kingly head to your feet;
Your eyes and the light that is in them,
Your lips with their maddening wine,
Your arms with their passionate clasp, my King,
Your body and soul are mine!

No power whatsoever,
No will but God's alone,
Can take you from my keeping,
You are His and mine alone.
I know not when, if ever,
I know not where, or how,
Death's hand may try the fetters
That bind me here and now;
But some day when God beckons
Where rise His fronded palms,
My soul shall cross the river
And lay you in His arms; - (forever and forever)
Beyond the silent sea
You will rest in the Arms Eternal
And still belong to me.

"Love"

Love is a king and every heart a throne,
Life lacks its purpose if Love reigns not there,
Nothing on earth shall last save Love alone,
Love stands between our world and dark despair
And turns the cheerless night to morning fresh and fair.

To some Love comes with smiles, and glad are they,
 " " he " " " " sighing breath,
 " " as slowly as the dawning day,
 " " he comes as swift as sudden death;
 In all, in all the slumbering hearts he quickeneth.

A quiver of the voice — and love is born,
Within the eyes, upon the lips he plays,
Hands touch the hand — and life is less forlorn,
A rose is given, and in its heart conveys
A message tender sweet that brightens all our days.

In Heaven there is no fairer thing than Love,
Than Love there is on earth no sweeter thing,
It is to be desired all else above,
And welcome to the heart, though pain it brings—
O leave me not for aye, O Love, my King, my King

Activities

"Love Me Not"

Love me not for comely grace,
For my pleasing eye or face,
Nor for any outward part;
No, nor for my loving heart!
For these may fail or turn to ill:
So thou and I shall sever.
Keep therefore a true man's eye,
And love me still, but know not why!
So hast thou the same reason still
To doth upon me ever.

* * * *

"When we are Parted"

I. When we are parted let me lie
In some far corner of thy heart,
Silent and from the world apart,
Like a forgotten melody:
Forgotten of the world beside,
Cherished by one, and one alone
For some loved memory of its own;
So let me in thy heart abide
When we are parted.
★

II. When we are parted, keep for me
The sacred stillness of the night;
That hour, sweet Love, is mine by right:
Let other claim the day of thee!
The cold world sleeping at our feet
My spirit shall discourse with thine; —
When stars upon thy pillow shine,
At thy heart's door I stand and beat
Though we are parted.

"Love Cannot Die"

I weep not that we must part;
Partings are short, eternity is long.
Life is but one brief stage
And they that say love ends with life are wrong.
List to thy own heart's cry:
Love cannot die!

*

II. What though so far away?
Thy thoughts are still with me, and with thee mine;
And absence has no power
To lessen what by nature is divine.
List to thine own heart's cry:
Love cannot die!

*

III. Then weep no more, my Love;
Weeping but shows thy trust in me is small.
Faith is by calmness proved;
For know this truth: thou canst not love at all
Unless thine own heart cry:
Love cannot die!

Doubt

- I. Sometimes, my darling, I have suffered doubt,
Sometimes — when what you said or did
Seemed cold,
A hand more chilling than Death's took sudden hold
Upon my heart, and all the sunny view
Grew dark, my darling, when I doubted you;
- II. That was a longer night than ever drew
Its sable curtain o'er the western red;
I lived and yet I felt that I was dead.
I prayed that I might hate you, but in vain,
The prayer reproached me with a deeper pain.
- III. Then I recalled your tenderness to me,
And vowed I still would cherish sweet belief;
Cast off the shadow of my doubt and grief;
Forget what eyes had seen or ears had heard,
And deem the motive kinder than the word.
- IV. 'Twas well, for time's ordeal proved your love,
Beyond your weary words I learned to see
The daily effort bravely made for me;
My heart was blind, dear love, when doubting you,
For oh, you loved me better than I knew!
- V. Alas, could we but see with clearer eyes,
Alas, could we but hear with keener ears,
We could have true hearts, live better years,
And not regret too late the brave and true,
The hearts that loved us better than we knew,

"Unspoken"

I. Ah, never doubt my love is true
That not in speech it flows,
For, dear, I cannot tell it you,
My heart no language knows;
And still can only yearn and ache
In silence though it break.

II. But not by any speech is known
The hidden love of deep and height;
The sea has nothing but a moan,
The dark is silent and the light;
The grandest music needs no word
To make its meaning heard.

III. You dwell amidst my daily strife,
A thing apart, divine,
And all that's noblest in my life
Is incense at your shrine,
For every worthy deed I do
Is done for love of you.

FIRST CLASS PLAY

"When will Love come?"

I. Some find Love late, some find him soon,
Some with the rose in May,
Some with the nightingale in June,
And some when skies are gray.

II. Love comes to some with smiling eyes,
And comes with tears to some,
For some Love sings, for some Love sighs,
For some Love's lips are dumb.

III. How will you come to me, fair Love?
Will you come late or soon?
With sad or smiling eyes above,
By light of sun or moon?

IV. Will you be sad, will you be sweet,
Sing, sigh, love, or be dumb?
Will it be summer when we meet
Or autumn ere you come.

"Love"
Love is not a feeling to pass away
Like the balmy breath of a summer's day!
It is not — it cannot be — laid aside;
It is not a thing to forget or hide.
It clings to the heart — ah, well is me!
As the ivy clings to the old oak tree,

"Love Is Forever"

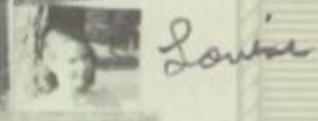

Love is forever — think no more
You give and take your heart at will;
'Tis mine — or was not mine before;
You never loved — or loved me still!

you seem to hate — appeared to love.
But one was false; choose which you will you hate? your love a lie has proved!
You loved? why when you love me still!

Then say no more your love is dead,
Nor death, nor hell, true love can kill.
were it a dream, it might have fled,
But love, you loved, and love me still.
* * * *

Snapshots

"I've just been learning the lesson of life,
The sad, sad lesson of loving,
and all of its powers for pleasure or pain
Been slowly and sadly proving,
and all that's left of the bright, bright dream
with its thousand brilliant phases"

"Twenty lovesick maidens we-e,
Lovesick all against our will—
Twenty years hence we shall be Twenty lovesick maidens still!
Twenty lovesick maidens we-e,
and we die for love of thee!"

"My love is a rover without a care—
Blitz as a racer and fleet as a hare,
Joyous and free, happy is he,
and he loves no one but me!"

"I will take the keys of your heart,
To lock us up together so that we can never part,
Sir, and I will walk, Sir, and I will talk;
Sir, and I will walk and talk with thee!"

"My Home Town"

I. My home town is Madisonville,
It's small, quiet, and always still.
There's small town gossip here, & there,
But I guess it's that way most anywhere.
Sometimes the rumors are not so sound,
But I guess it's that way in your home town.

II. The people are wise, smart, & gay, and I love them all for their sweet, simple ways.
They work at their jobs all the day long,
but in their hearts still rings a song.
They are there to cheer you on your way,
With something gay, and cheerful to say.
They're there when you're blue & down-hearted too.
They'll stand by you, so faithful & true.

III. This may sound strange,
But can you complain?
It's my home town,
To share without shame.

I love you more sincerely dear
Than I could ever say
And more than I could let you know . . .
In any other way I love you with a lasting love That never feels a pain Except when you are sad and you are walking in the rain Whatever time of day or night
. or color of the sky I would not look for other lips or ever say good bye Because there is no other one Who means so much to me Beyond today and back as far As every me-

. Would never give me time to tell
. How much I love you dear.
